

Squad Training Session (STS) 1 - Edinburgh

The Iaido-bu had a great STS session in Edinburgh today, the first STS of 2017 and the first one ever to be held in Scotland. It was supported by 31 attendees.

Many thanks to our Squad Coach Greg Drewe sensei, and Assistant Coach Martin Clark sensei for coming to lead the event, and a very special thanks to our own local Hugh Darby sensei for his superb support. The venue was great and although it was a long day, there were lots of smiling faces at the end of the day as people headed home, so coming from as far as Cambridge area.

I would like to say well done to all of you for your hard work, also thank you for your support. Please do spread the word that the STS are the cheapest one day event on the calendar and cater to both squad hopefuls and members who want to get higher levels of input and/or prepare for grading. We hope to see you all again at the next STS 2 in Northampton (April 23), and look forward to seeing some new faces as well. JHG – Iaido Bucho (26/2/17)
